A Note to Instructors

I hope you find this workbook useful, I just want to point out three key features:

- 1.) This book is totally free to you and your students. Feel free to copy it or post it to your course website and feel free to share it with colleagues.
- 2.) Although I am widely distributing a PDF file, I have gone to great effort to make a fully editable Word version of this document. Please contact me if you'd like to have a copy of the Word version. You can edit any of these problems to better fit in your class or simply copy and paste an entire problem into an assignment or test, with the attribution "Source: accountingworkbook.com", or "Adapted from: accountingworkbook.com".
- 3.) Every problem in this workbook has a video walkthrough available at <http://accountingworkbook.com>. I suspect the true value in this book lies in the video walkthroughs, as it will be useful for homework and particularly useful for "flipping the classroom".

Please let me know if you would like to see additional question-types or topics included in the future. I intend to add to this book frequently based on your input. Also, any feedback you can provide (particularly student feedback) would be greatly appreciated.

Please note, you do not have my permission to use this for a commercial purpose, nor do you have permission to recreate the videos found at <http://accountingworkbook.com>. Send me an email if you have any questions about use or attribution.

Thanks for checking out this workbook, and I hope you'll have a look at the companion website: <http://accountingworkbook.com> !

Module 3: Adjusting Entries and Closing Entries

3-1A – 5 types of Adjustments

This problem explores 5 common types of adjusting journal entries. All problems relate to ABC Company, which has a fiscal year-end of December 31.

a.) Prepaid expenses - Insurance

ABC Company purchases a one-year insurance policy on June 1, 2017 for $1,800 cash.

Required

Record the entry for the purchase of insurance and for the year-end adjustment.

b.) Depreciation

ABC Company purchases a vehicle on August 31, 2017 for $15,000 cash. The vehicle is expected to be useful for 10-years, after which time it will have no residual value. The company wishes to use straight-line depreciation.

Required

Record the journal entry for the purchase of the vehicle and for the year-end adjustment.

c.) Accrued expenses - Interest

On May 1, 2017, ABC Company borrows $10,000 from the bank and signs a note payable. The debt carries annual interest of 10% and is repaid in full (with interest) on July 31, 2018.

Required

Record the journal entry for the initial borrowing, the year-end adjustment and the repayment of the debt.

d.) Accrued revenues

As at December 31, 2017, ABC Company had provided 3 months of consulting service to a client at a rate of $1,000 per month, but had not yet billed the client or collected any money. On January 31, 2018 the client was billed for four months of service and paid one week later on February 8, 2018.

Required

Record the journal entry for the year-end adjustment, and any other entries required.

e.) Unearned revenues

A client pre-pays ABC Company on November 1, 2017 for five months of consulting service (from November through the end of March). The company pays $15,000. ABC Company earns the money evenly over the life of the project, and has fulfilled its obligations up to December 31.

Required

Record the journal entry November 1 and for the year-end adjustment.

3-1B – 5 types of Adjustments

This problem explores 5 common types of adjusting journal entries. All problems relate to XYZ Company, which has a fiscal year-end of December 31.

a.) Prepaid expenses - Supplies

On December 15, XYZ Company was completely out of supplies, so the company purchased $1,500 of supplies on account. On December 31, a supply count revealed $200 of supplies were on hand.

Required

Record the entry for the purchase of supplies and for the year-end adjustment.

b.) Depreciation

XYZ Company purchases a new building for $800,000 on April 1, 2017. The building is fully financed by a mortgage. The building is expected to be useful for 30 years, after which time it will have no residual value. The company wishes to use straight-line depreciation.

Required

Record the journal entry for the purchase of the building and for the year-end adjustment.

c.) Accrued expenses - Salaries

XYZ Company pays salaries of $4,000 every Friday. The company has a 5-day workweek and is open from Monday to Friday. This year, the December 31 falls on a Thursday.

Required

Record the year-end adjustment and the entry for when salaries are paid on Friday, January 1.

d.) Accrued revenues - interest

On October 1, 2017, XYZ Company loaned an employee (Fred Smith) $1,000. Fred signed a note promising to pay back the $1,000 in full plus interest at annual rate of 12%. On May 1, Fred pays back the note and accrued interest.

Required

Record the journal entry for the initial loan, the year-end adjustment and the repayment.

e.) Unearned revenues

On December 1, 2017, three customers each prepaid $500 for a 5-month consulting package. XYZ Company fulfilled its obligations up to December 31.

Required

Record the journal entry December 1 and for the year-end adjustment.

3-2A – Recording transactions and adjusting entries

Iginla Inc. has a fiscal year end of December 31, 2017. Below are transactions that occurred during the year:

- a.) On February 1, the company purchased a 1-year insurance policy for $4,800 cash.
- b.) On May 17, the company purchased $2,000 of supplies on account. The supplies were counted at year end, and there were $450 remaining.
- c.) On August 31, the company purchased a truck for $38,000. The truck's estimated useful life is 12 years, and there is no expected residual value.
- d.) On September 30, the company signed a note payable, borrowing $10,000 cash from a local credit union at an annual interest rate of 7%. They promised to repay $10,000 plus interest on May 1, 2018.
- e.) On November 1, the company loaned $1,000 cash to an employee. The employee promised to repay the company the principal plus 3% annual interest on January 31, 2018.
- f.) On November 20, the company received a $5,000 advance payment for cleaning services it would deliver for the months of December and January. As of December 31, it had successfully fulfilled its first month of obligation.

Required:

For the transactions above, record a journal entry for the original transaction and record the required year-end adjustment. (If no journal entry is required, write "no entry".)

3-2B – Recording transactions and adjusting entries

Doan Inc. has a fiscal year end of March 31, 2018. The following transactions occurred during the year:

- a.) April 30, 2017: Purchased insurance for the year: $6,000.
- b.) June 1, 2017: Purchased equipment on account: $4,000. The equipment had an expected useful life of 8 years and no expected residual value.
- c.) July 21, 2017: Purchased supplies for cash: $2,000. A count at year-end revealed the company still had $1,700 of supplies remaining.
- d.) August 31, 2017: Borrowed $8,000 cash in the form of a note payable. The note has annual interest at a rate of 11%. The company expects to repay the note on August 1, 2018.
- e.) December 1, 2017: Loaned $3,000 cash signing a note receivable. The note has an annual interest rate of 6%. The company expects to be repaid on June 30, 2018.
- f.) January 1, 2018: The company received a $12,000 prepayment for software development services it would be delivering over the next four months. As of fiscal year end, the first three months of the service had been delivered on time and on schedule with one more month remaining.

Required:

For the transactions above, record a journal entry for the original transaction and record the required year-end adjustment. (If no journal entry is required, write “no entry”.)

3-3A – Adjusting Entries, the Adjusted Trial Balance Worksheet, Financial Statements and Closing Entries (and the kitchen sink.)
